Meet Our Team

Bhavana Patel, DO

Dr. Bhavana Patel is currently an Assistant Professor in the Division of Movement Disorders and Behavioral Neurology at the University of Florida. She joined the UF Department of Neurology and the Fixel Institute for Neurological Diseases in 2017. After medical school, she pursued a two year fellowship in Movement Disorders with a focus on behavioral neurology and memory disorders at the University of Florida from 2017-2019. During her training she completed additional clinical and research training in Lewy Body disease under the mentorship of Dr. Melissa Armstrong. Dr. Patel's research interests include Lewy body dementia, neurostimulation for movement and cognitive disorders, along with a strong interest in improving the delivery of healthcare to patients with Lewy body disease.
